Occupancy Tax

Occupancy Tax was established in 2025, 2 years ago. the amount collected has significantly increased, but the grant awards returned to many recipients, particularly those generating the most revenue, have not kept pace. From 2016 to 2024, Cape May County's Occupancy Tax revenue more than doubled, rising by over 50% from $11.418 million to $23.067 million. In 2024, Cape May County, which is the second-highest generator of Occupancy Tax in the state, collected $23.067 million and received a return of only 6%, amounting to $1.4 million. In contrast, two other counties received returns exceeding 100%, while one county received an 88.5% return. The top 5 generators of this tax include –

- Bergen County $24,224,494 collected and 5.72% return or $1.38 million
- Cape May County $23,066,528 collected and 6% return or $1.4 million
- Middlesex County $22,436,931 collected and 12.48% return or $2.3 million
- Hudson County 17,254,876 collected and 8% return or $1.38 million
- Morris County $15,810,967 collected and 14.5% return or $2.29 million

Five of 21 counties generated $80.36 million of the $194 million collected statewide and saw a return of $8.75 million in 2024. The breakdown equates to those 5 counties generated 41% of the total dollars collected in Occupancy Tax and received 21.5% of the dollars allocated through Tourism, Arts, and History grants. The formula is flawed, with no incentive to work harder.

The four beach counties generated $53.13 million, or 27.46% of the statewide Occupancy Tax collected in 2024, and received in total grant awards $6.8 million or 12.8% return.

International Visitors

Rising costs, debt, and financial stress are impacting travel in the U.S. Foreign travel to the country has decreased and now represents only a small percentage of our visitors. In the first quarter, some reservations from Canadian travelers were canceled, although reports of new bookings made in recent weeks.

International travel plans to Europe have dropped by 8%, from 45% to 36%, marking the lowest level since 2021. Only 18% of those surveyed indicated they would travel to Europe, a decrease from 28% in 2024. Travel warnings issued in several European countries have contributed to this decline.

29% of Americans surveyed by MMGY reported that they will shift from international to U.S destinations in 2025, with 24% planning to choose less expensive modes of transportation. 72% of U.S. travelers are expected to take road trips. This trend is promising for Cape May County as a drive-to destination.

Canada

Cape May County has been marketing to Quebec visitors since 1968 and maintained a full-time office from 1970-1995. Visitors from Quebec, who usually come in July and August, made up 7-9% of our prepandemic guests, while Ontario visitors were less than 1%.

We are monitoring cancellations and reduced bookings from hotels, motels, campgrounds, and rentals. Reports from the lodging sector indicate that not all Canadians have canceled, and new reservations are trickling in.

- The reduction in the number of Canadian visitors is influenced by several factors beyond tariffs, annexation discussions, and general political dissatisfaction.
- The economic situation in Canada has affected travel to the U.S. over the past three years and has not yet returned to pre-2019 levels.
- Soaring debt, inflation, a housing crisis, a lack of private investment, and stagnant growth have affected core Canadian household expenses, leading to reduced discretionary spending.
- The Canadian dollar has, on average, been trading at below 69 to 70 cents against the U.S. dollar. During the 1970s, the dollar traded at par.
- March 2020 to November 2021, the U.S.-Canadian border was closed, representing two summer seasons with no travel between the two countries.
